Very Different but informative.....By Robert ParkerThe book was satisfactory, however it showed almost every item for Bing and Grondahl except my artifact. That was very strange, but the book was informative.Very different.Thank you .....0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. niceBy Charles M.It was very informative, I learned a lot about the age and designer of the figurines. Explore the broad range of beautiful, high-quality porcelain figurines manufactured by the Bing Grondahl Porcelain Manufactory, of Copenhagen, Denmark, in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Today, collectors worldwide appreciate the sculptors' and decorators' skills, as reflected in their charming figurines. More than 700 animal and human figurines are shown, along with date marks, shop signs, plates, dishes, bowls, and vases. Approximately 1,000 Bing Grøndahl figurines have been identified and described. The figurines are cataloged in numerical order with identification of the sculptor, size, price, and a guide to rarity. Ideal for novice collectors, figurine addicts, and dealers, this book provides insight to the huge range of high quality porcelain figurines available -- both new (current production of Bing Grøndahl pieces by Royal Copenhagen) and vintage. It appeals especially to specialized collector-owners of dogs, cats, fauns, fish, etc.

About the Author Caroline and Nick Pope live in the south of England and have been collecting Danish porcelain for over 20 years. Their other books, A Collector's Guide to Royal Copenhagen Porcelain, and Dahl-Jensen Porcelain Figurines have been acclaimed in collecting circles.
