Good reference but not the quality I expected for the price By Scott Satellite For as expensive as the book was I found it disappointing that so many of the catalogs were not such great copies, many with marks and writing. Its a good reference but not the quality I expected for the price. The color is muddy and off in sections as well. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Customer Excellent reference material. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Jennavieve Exactly as expected

"Magnificent color, skilled craftsmanship and creative design make Blenko America's most colorful name in glass,"

touted a Blenko catalog advertisement. First begun in the late nineteenth century in Milton, West Virginia, Blenko remains one of the few glass factories in the United States where modern hand-blown glass is still in production. Recently, Blenko glass designs from the 1950s and 1960s have caught collectors' eyes. This book presents an exact, full-color reprinting of the yearly Blenko company catalogs from 1962 through 1971, thus offering a complete, well-illustrated record of Blenko glass products, including original retail prices and current market values. This book is most useful for the dealers and collectors of glass who appreciate the beauty and "timely glass design" of Blenko.

About the Author Leslie Pina is author and co-author of more than three dozen books on decorative arts and design, including Fifties Glass and Popular '50s '60s Glass: Color Along the River.
