Jean Dale : Royal Doulton Figurines, 11th Edition - A Charlton Standard Catalogue before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Royal Doulton Figurines, 11th Edition - A Charlton Standard Catalogue:

Important Catalog for CollectorsBy Dee DeeNot cheap on the secondary market, the only way to obtain it, but I understand that the Charlton Standard Catalogue of Royal Doulton Figurines is considered the premier catalog for the serious Royal Doulton figurine collector. I agree. Among the features of this catalog are an Introduction which has much informative and useful information, a picture of each HN figurine in number order with accompanying descriptive data including a price guide (take with a grain of salt, as always), and the same info for some pieces outside the HN series. There are also lists of Series with the figurines they include, which is helpful if you like to collect by series. NOTE: This is the 11th Edition; a 12th Edition has been published which is also expensive because it too is now only available on the secondary market. This 11th Edition covers figurines up to HN4875.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Newest Edition of Royal Doulton Figurines Charlton Standard Press By AussieWow was I lucky to get this. Thank You. Nice Quality and Price for a very hard book to find on Royal Doulton. This is the last and probably the final Book that will be produced on Royal Doulton Figurines. I only wish that it had more Colored Photos, like in the First Edition that I recently purchased. This Edition does give you lots of details on each Figurine and Price Value to use as a Guideline. The book is made from nice quality paper stock also. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. All you need to know.....By Customer These are very informative books for the Royal Doulton collector. (Although sad, when you realize that the days of this kind of information are sadly long gone, as are the beautiful and valuable pieces of Royal Doulton themselves. :(

The early Lambeth figures of John Broad, Leslie Harradine, Mark Marshall and George Tinworth continue to make gains in the market place. It is almost impossible to find a Tinworth figure for less than $2,000, while his classic pieces are in the five figure category. Noke's Vellum figures, produced at Burslem, have increased in value over 10th edition prices. The early figures in the HN Series, from HN1 to approximately HN2000, have basically increased in value. This, of course, does not include the long run figures such as the Balloon Lady, Top of the Hill, etc. Character figures such as the Carpet Seller, Orange Vendor and The Cobbler are experiencing a weakening demand. It is the middle section of HN numbers from approximately HN2000 to HN3000 that have come under pressure from on-line auction sales. It is the supply of figures in this bracket which experienced the great demand of the 1960's and 1970's as the pre-boomers entered the collectable field with gusto. It is these collections that are now being offered for sale on on-line auctions resulting in the supply overtaking the demand. The HN Series of the last twenty years, let's say HN3000 to HN4800, are basically short issued and are either holding or increasing in value. More figures than ever are being issued annually. In 2005 over 125 new HN numbered figures were issued. However, the number of limited edition pieces is increasing, with the issue period being shorter, which makes an interesting case for the secondary market. The 2005 figure Lawrence of Arabia (HN4695) by Alan Maslankowski, with a limited edition of 50 pieces carried on the modern Prestige series which began in 2002. We now have four figures in this series. Other series introduced in 2005 are Best of the Classics, Chic Trends, Natural Beauty, Petites and Street Vendors. All prices have been reviewed and updated for the 11th edition. In some cases, between markets we have the foreign exchange difference playing a major factor. The 11th edition is the largest ever with the body of the book being 544 pages, plus 32 pages of colour. The 11th edition is available from your local Royal Doulton dealer, book stores, on-line book stores such as Amazon.com, Amazon.co.uk, BarnesNoble.com and chapters.indigo.ca, or directly from the Charlton Press at the cover price plus postage.
