Sayre Historical Society : Sayre (Postcard History) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Sayre (Postcard History):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A book filled with images and facts about Sayre. By J. Nobles The 128-page book has 223 postcards or photographs with captions filled with interesting facts about Sayre. The images are clear and the captions add a lot of details about the history of Sayre.

Sayre dates to 1783, when a gristmill was built along Shepard Creek. Greater Sayre began around 1870 at a railroad junction near the Susquehanna River. Activity at that junction led to the community eventually named Sayre. Sayre experienced phenomenal growth with the expansion of the Lehigh Valley Railroad operations. Its reputation as a railroad town began to fade after World War II, ending with the demise of the railroad by the 1970s. In its place, Guthrie Healthcare now provides the strongest influence on the town. Today the hospital's position in Sayre is as important as the railroad was in its heyday, both serving as the keystones of a town that thousands call home.

Title: Illustrated history of Sayre will soon be available at the Sayre Historical Society

Date: 7/7/10
A postcard history of Sayre is being published by Arcadia Publishing and will be available for sale in October 2010. The book will contain 128 pages with 240 illustrations and appropriate captions. The illustrations consist of postcards, photos and other images from the archives of the Sayre Historical Society Museum and the private collection of longtime Sayre resident, James Nobles. The captions, written by Nobles, will provide a unique look back in time as Sayre grew from a railroad junction in the farmland between Waverly and Athens. The book will be available for sale in the Burkhardt Gift Shop, located in the Sayre Historical Society Museum. Those interested may reserve their copy now for purchase as soon as they become available by stopping in the museum from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. any Saturday. People may also reserve a copy by contacting any society board member, by calling (570) 882-8221, or by e-mailing SayreHistoricalSociety@Yahoo.com. The Sayre Historical Society is a recipient agency of the Bradford County United Way. This press release was submitted by The Sayre Historical Society Museum. About the Author
The Sayre Historical Society was established in 1989 to preserve historical information and artifacts relating to the history of Sayre. Through their extensive archive, Sayre chronicles the community's rich heritage and evolution.
