Tony Matthewman : The History of Trix HO/OO Model Railways in Britain before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The History of Trix HO/OO Model Railways in Britain:

A full commercial history of the Trix Train system, developed in Germany in the 30s and brought to the UK by Basset-Lowke on a concession basis. Post-war, the line was further developed into a range of fine British Railways locomotives. This book includes details of the entire product range.
